INFORMATION IN THIS JOURNAL IS FROM RELIABLE SOURCES.

INTRODUCTION
COSMOLOGY is the science of the Universe as a whole; a treatise on the structure and parts of the system of creation. COSMOLOGY NEWS-LINK, was created to fill the need to fit together inter-related subjects and data which may or may not have bearings on each other. This perhaps may lead to the answers to all of earth's mysteries. In this case this magazine has accomplished its purpose. Most of our title was suggested by Patrick Dineen, of Co. Kerry Ireland. We added the LINK.

CNK first published in June 1972. We are a NON-PROFIT making journal, produced for interest only. The price is to recover losses in production. COPYRIGHT: Where an article or photo cannot be traced to its source, the editor offers apologies should any rights be inadvertently infringed.

D E A R
Readers.Hi!
This is our special Jubilee edition of CNK.As we have made more contacts in EUROPE
I have,with help attempted this one in German,
French & Sued-ish, due to the important events here and over there.You can now see what's been going on in France,and other places,

and they can find out what has been going on here too.
This issue has run to 64 pages because of it, and to celebrate Her Majesty's Silver Jubilee too. CNK numbers 14 and 15 were, for the FIRST time, tried out in newsagents shops, and we can report good results.Therefore because CNK is now a public journal and not, as before, privately circulated, we cannot run the normal chatter which only UFO groups know of, unless of course the public wish to become involved with these subjects, and in that case,they can join a UFO group etc.

Therefore, may I thank all those readers who have been supporting this tiny periodical, and wish them a very pleasant time in the Jubilee celebrations.

What ARE the Queen's views on this subject? We asked Buckingham Palace for that answer, and the results can be seen here on the letter pages.

This issue spans information not yet released by us due to lack of space. I hope the 64 pages will be worth while in your studies of the unknown, paranormal, and in metaphysics, as well as astronomy, and cosmology. So until we meet again, Auf Wiedersehen, Au Revair, Goodbye,adjsö. Bis nÄcheste mal.

BY THE EDITOR

LAST year, CNK decided to try the magazine out in the newsagents. We also wanted to see what the reaction would be on the local press, when approached with the subject of Ufology. Although the paper for the Dunmow area were slow to find out, and not do anything; it was taken up by a young reporter for the Braintree and Witham Times, Martin Rutland^{who} finally produced the report on page 5. I asked Mr. Rutland what were his views on UFOs as a newspaper man. He said that journalist cannot view an opinion, they must stay neutral. I suspect he is interested enough to give CNK the mention we got, in two editions. Thanks to Martins help, CNK is on its way to the public, for which no UFO/Space magazine exists. (excepting the USA book OFFICIAL UFO).

UNIDENTIFIED flying objects may be a joke subject for many people, but for amateur scientist Edward Harris, of Dunmow, they are deadly serious.

Mr Harris is editor of a small but widely circulating magazine called Cosmology Newslink which publishes reports of worldwide UFO sightings and those of other similar phenomena.

"All the reports I receive are part of a giant jigsaw which I,
through the magazine,
try and put together,"
he said.

Mr Harris, 35, first started writing on space subjects at the age of 14

and since then he has built up a world-wide network of UFO spotters who report all sightings to him.

Anyone reporting a sighting receives a complicated form to fill in which asks for a complete description of the craft, weather conditions and other witnesses. One copy of the form goes to the Ministry of Defence.

another to the Essex UFO Study Group and Mr Harris retains the third.

Mention of UFOs or spacemen usually brings a disbelieving smile to our faces unless we are one of the small but steadily growing band of people who are convinced they have seen them.

We have all read accounts of how people have seen large circular discs flying faster and manoeuvring more subtly than any known earth craft.

Mr Harris agrees that many of these sightings can be explained away as Russian and American satellites, innocent tail lights of aircraft or simply the imagination playing tricks.

But there are still a small per cent of sightings which have no logical explanation.

Perhaps the little Martians on the potato powder advert are right when they chuckle: "Clearly these earthlings are a most primitive people," for as Mr Harris points out we are being most arrogant to assume that in the whole universe, earth is the only green, fertile and life-bearing planet.

He was so adamant that there is life in outer space that I asked him why did our space neighbours not announce themselves instead of skulking around on countless reconnaissance missions.

"They are keeping their distance and subjecting us to a gradual conditioning process so we can get used to accepting them."

"If they all suddenly landed now there would be a panic situation."

Mr Harris does not restrict himself to merely writing about UFO sightings, he attempts to make predictions after studying unusual phenomena.

In this month's issue he concludes after studying several scientific reports and weather patterns that the sun is entering the first stage of the end of its life.

"The sun is the place you must look to for the answers about the adverse weather conditions. I hope I am wrong but I predict temperatures will be 5 degrees hotter on average by June 1977."

"The sun is losing its gravitational pull and starting to expand and it will turn into a red giant taking the solar system with it.

"Eventually it will shrink and collapse into itself and become a black hole in space."

All we can do is keep our fingers crossed and reassure ourselves that there is a strong counter argument lying around which assures the sun will last another few thousand million years.

LONELY

Outer space has always held a strong fascination for Mr Harris ever since he was a child.

"I was a very lonely boy and my only friends were the stars."

Since then he has dabbled in many spheres of space activity not the least spectacular being his work on an anti-gravity machine.

He is working on the ascending gyroscope theory which was first developed in Colchester during 1974 by Mr Eric Rickman.

His next scheme is to compile a set of UFO encyclopaedias which he expects will run to seven or eight volumes.

Mr Harris's non profit making magazine can be bought from Mills Newsagents, Braintree.

Midnight sighting

YOU MAY think that a small town like Braintree is far removed from the world of flying saucers but last week Mrs Doris Boreham, 53, of Station Road, reported a sighting.

"I heard a terrible rushing noise while I was in bed so I looked out of the window and saw a huge light in the sky which scared me to death," she said.

She went on, "I called my husband to look and the thing started to break up."

UFOs AND THE SCIENTIST

In this issue we take a look at the astronomers and what rôle they play in the reporting or detecting of the UFO. PATRICK MOORE, FRAS, FRSA, often gets dragged into the controversy, maybe even against his will, to explain, what he feels is natural occurrences. Publicly Mr. Moore may HAVE to ridicule the subject but we wonder whether in private Mr. Moore does have views on the UFO—maybe he has himself seen them..for if he has, then he is sure NOT telling, perhaps at the cost of his job. However I am sure he has an open mind, and therefore produced, for the first time the following article for Britain's RADIO TIMES:

Unexplained craters in a Dorset field; radio signals from Outer Space; unidentifiable beings in Unidentified Flying Objects – are we being watched by other worlds?

What worries me is that nobody has ever been able to bring back proof of having seen a Saucer at close range. As for me – well, there is nothing I would like better than to meet a Martian.

some of the reports of sightings – credible or incredible?

How much dare we believe?

Patrick Moore provides an astronomer's view of Flying Saucers.

THERE IS A beautiful strip or section around the centre of the Moon in which vegetation, trees and animals thrive, and people live in comfort. We ourselves have a large laboratory just beyond the rim of the Moon, out of sight of Earth, in the temperate and cooler section of that body.

These are not my words. According to George Adamski, the first, and probably the most famous, of the Flying Saucer writers, they were spoken to him by a Saturnian, whom he had met in a café and who had taken him for a ride in a Saucer which was able to hover only a few thousand miles from the Moon. This trip - according to Mr Adamski - took place in 1955, and he gave me a personal account of it. I admit that I was a trifle sceptical, and I had an uneasy feeling that something was wrong somewhere. But even in those far-off days, Flying Saucers were very much in the news. More recently, of course, they have been re-classified as UFOs, and there is a serious split in the ranks of the Flying Saucerers. On one hand we have the 'contactees' of the school of Adamski, Cedric Allingham (who met a Martian on the Scottish coast), and of course the Aetherius Society, whose members are constantly at work charging mountain-tops with spiritual energy, and who are personally directed by the Master Aetherius himself, who lives on Venus and keeps a weather eye upon us. Then there are the more sober investigators, who turn up their noses at all contactees, but who are nevertheless convinced that we are under close surveillance.

Let me start by admitting that I have never seen a Saucer. On the other hand, neither have I seen a warthog in its wild state, and this is no reason for me to claim that wild warthogs are figments of the imagination. Like most astronomers, I am convinced that life is widespread in the universe, even though the planets in our own solar system appear to be distinctly unwelcoming places (except for the Earth, of course, which would be ideal for us if only we had the sense not to vandalise it). The Earth is between three and four thousand million years old, and it supports a civilisation which can send rockets out, at least, to a great many millions of miles. Older civilisations (of which there must surely be many) may be expected to do much better. Flying Saucers, therefore, are not impossible.

What worries me is that nobody has ever been able to bring back proof of having seen a Saucer at close range, let alone of having talked to its crew. (Language would presumably be no real problem: all extra-terrestrials speak excellent broken English.) A lot of photographs have been produced. Many of them show space-ships which look remarkably like lampshades: some people with nasty minds maintain that they are lampshades. Others are rather obvious photographic effects - which can, I concede, look remarkably Saucerian. Some are fakes. But I appreciate that Flying Saucer believers are, in the main, absolutely sincere, well-meaning people who would never consciously mislead anyone.

A characteristic common to all those whom I classify as 'Independent Thinkers' is that they are convinced there is an official ban upon publishing vital information which would prove their case; the Authorities are working hard to withhold the facts from an enquiring public, and they alone know the real facts. Every Saucerer worth his salt believes that there are highly classified files in Whitehall, the Pentagon, and no doubt also in Chairman Hua's private office, which would revolutionise the whole popular concept of visitations from outer space. And it is true that there are witnesses who are prepared to swear that they have seen Saucers close at hand, or even that they have been in them - as many Americans in 1938 saw the Martians, and felt the heat-rays, just after Orson Welles's classic broadcast of H. G. Wells's War of the Worlds, which was mistaken for a genuine news bulletin. (A few years later, Wells's story was outshone by a newscast from a Brazilian station. An announcer who had just been made redundant celebrated the occasion by putting out a broadcast to the effect that the Moon was about to hit the Earth, and considerable unrest ensued.)

I have followed up a few UFO reports. In July 1963, I remember, some curious craters appeared in a field near Shaftesbury, and I arrived there at the dead of night, to find the whole region humming with activity. There was even a gentleman who gave his name as Randall, and claimed to have come from the Woomera rocket range - though the Woomera authorities seemed to have forgotten about him by the time I enquired later. Mr Randall also maintained that he had come across a crashed Saucer which had come from the planet Uranus, but had made a faulty landing - due to lack of skill by the pilot, who rejoiced in the name of Ce-fn-x. I have also been to Warminster, the centre of British Saucer activity; and interviewed the American author of a book called Aboard a Flying Saucer, which described a fascinating voyage in a spaceship under the command of a beautiful lady from Venus. (There is a sad sequel here: the author's wife promptly sued him for divorce, cited the lady from Venus, and won - thereby causing the first inter-planetary scandal in history.) I have talked to members of the Aetherius Society, whose president, George King, was officially appointed Earth representative of the Interplanetary Parliament, which meets on Saturn. And I have attended the meetings of various UFO societies, listening to the speakers with rapt attention.

Mind you, there are sky phenomena that nobody has yet been able to explain. And when all the fakes, misinterpretations and natural objects have been weeded out, there remain some reports which are, frankly, puzzling. My own view is that the introduction of alien spaceships is - to put it mildly - rather far-fetched. After all, there are some natural phenomena which are still calculated to baffle any research teams: ball lightning is one example. During the war, when I was flying with the RAF, I saw various Saucerlike objects - most of which were due to ice crystals and the like. Obviously, they moved at the speed of one's own aircraft.

I often wonder what the general reaction would be if a spaceship really did come down in some public place (such as Parliament Square) and make itself known. I like to think that we should extend a very warm welcome to the crew.

though I must admit that I am not confident. As for my own reactions - well, there is nothing I would like better than to meet a Martian, a Venusian, a Saturnian, or even a Sirian. and my immediate instinct would be to invite him to join me in a Sky at Night programme. In fact, this is an open invitation, and if any extra-terrestrial happens to read this article, I do urge him to telephone me as soon as he has a few moments to spare.

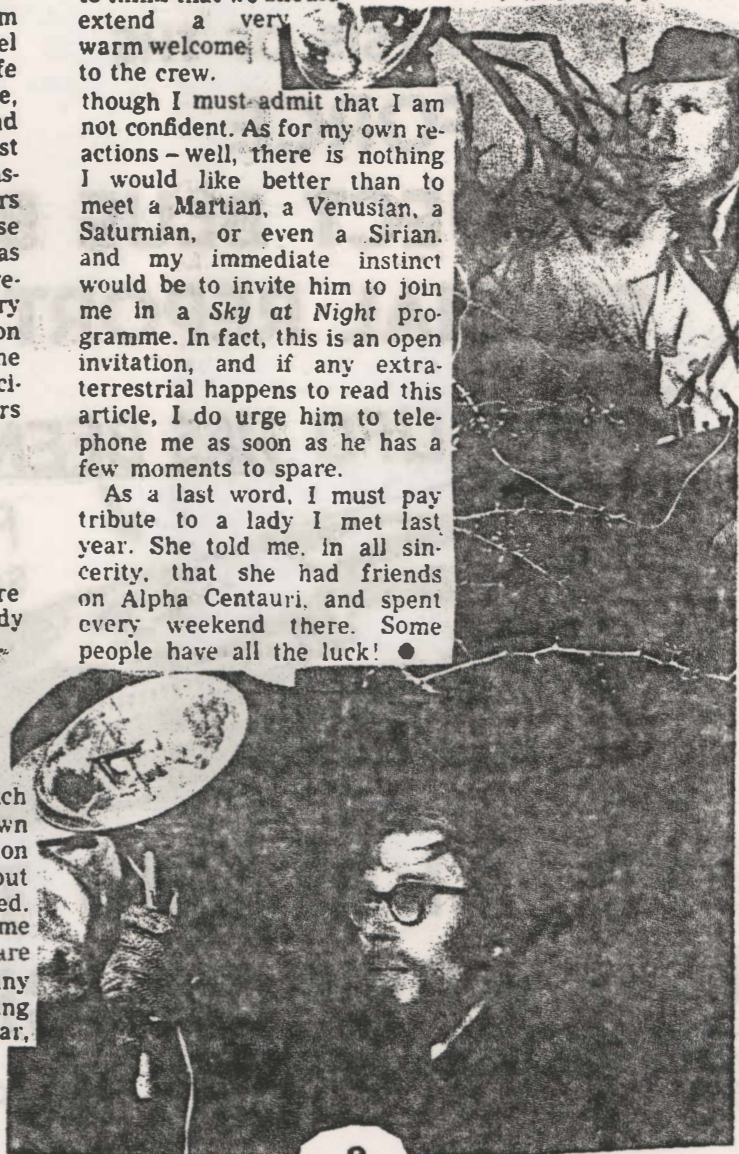

As a last word, I must pay tribute to a lady I met last year. She told me, in all sincerity, that she had friends on Alpha Centauri, and spent every weekend there. Some people have all the luck! ●

LETTERS - FORUM & ARTICLES

A LETTER FROM BUCKINGHAM PALACE.

In this Jubilee year, CNK took this opportunity to write to the Royal family the following letter:-

5th July 1977

Dear Madam, To show honour in this Jubilee Year of your rein, my amateur publication wishes to produce a Silver Jubilee issue. I can only do so by asking your Royal Highnesses, yourself and your husband, where your beliefs lie in regard to matters not of this world, but others.

Therefore to ask both of you a direct question of the following: Do you consider it a possibility that, in your opinion only, that there are other life forms in space, other than our own? Please note that I have never written to a Royal Person before and it would therefore be the first time I could get the views of yourselves on these matters, since I have not read of any such views held privately by yourself or his Royal Highness Prince Phillip.

If you both hold any beliefs, I would like to know what they are, and if these would have to be private or for publication. I am sure however, that all persons on earth, whatever their status, must hold some beliefs of this nature-it's just that, we don't know for sure, if you have them. Can you tell me if you do. I'm sure your reply would be very interesting, if you feel this, of course warrants such a reply.

I wish to thank you for your time in reading this, and feel sure that I shall not be sending any more requests, at least, for the next 25 years.

God Bless you all at Buckingham Palace, Long may you look after us all. Yours sincerely, Edward Harris, Editor

THE REPLY:

BUCKINGHAM PALACE

11th July, 1977

Dear Mr Harris,

I am commanded to thank you for your letter of 5th July asking for an opinion from The Queen and The Duke of Edinburgh about 'other life forms in space'.

I fear that it is not possible to do as you ask.

Yours sincerely

Hesellting

*CNK COMMENT: Now we shall NEVER know. (Until a UFO lands in their courtyard). Maybe it will ONE DAY- Editor

Letter from ESSEX DOWSER: 19th January 1977

Thank you for your letter of 3 January enclosing CNK 12, (exchange), which I found quite interesting, despite some of the duplicating problems which you had.

Regarding Patrick Dineen (he was the creator in part, of our title-Cosmology news-Editor), of Co. Kerry, Ireland. He could be a distant relation since my great grandfather came from the west Cork-Kerry area around 1870 I believe. However since most Irish names tend to originate in particular places and the majority of people with the name Dineen who can trace back about 4-5 generations finish up in the West Cork-Kerry area it does not mean a great deal. Incidentally, the name translates from the Irish-Duinn=people, in(een)=little, small; or Little people.

Regarding dowsing I must admit that since I found a pendulum that works for me I will not let anybody touch it, especially a woman. On the other hand I have no objections to anybody using my metal rods. The rods however are rather a physical form of Dowsing involving direct contact with currents in the earth or elsewhere. Pendulums involve more the psychic side of dowsing. I always keep my pendulum on my person except of course in bed so that it is continually charged and in sympathetic vibration with me. I don't know if you recall that the Russians found that there were three different types of dowser involving I believe various degrees of positivity and negativity. A woman is usually negative, though I believe there are a few who are not and if she touches and puts a negative charge on your pendulums you will more than likely find that you get anomalous results. There are also negative men so most dowsers keep their pendulums to themselves to avoid 'contamination'. Mike Milton (whom I do not know) should have been able to explain that to you.

My best success with my pendulum was finding a method to get rid of a kidney stone which I had for 8 years (x-rayed at regular six monthly intervals at Harold Wood Hospital). It moved about and gradually got larger and it was one of the first things I tackled when I learned to use my pendulum. I found that it could be eliminated by Vitamin C and after taking about 500 mg. per day for about three months the stone disappeared much to the disbelief of my doctor and surgeon who were keeping tabs on it. I did not tell them what I had done, because they would not believe me, but I have been put down as one of their mystery cases.

Regarding dowsing generally, short of digging up the ground (which I have done in the early days) it is difficult, so I am usually satisfied if other dowzers can also get a reaction. A wide experience of working with rods and pendulum brings confidence, but never 100%. Dowsing is an unknown power with unknown limitations. I have checked the reaction over the top of the pyramid dozens of times, but it has not changes at all. (note for new readers:Pyramids seem to give out an unknown energy force,not detected by instruments,even cardboard models,used to sharpen razor blades inside).However, the reaction at the sides of the pyramid has changes in recent weeks, or else I did not check long enough in my earlier experiments.That is the trouble with dowsing. At first I got a clear oscillation towards each pyramid face around about the middle. About 10 days ago when I checked I found the oscillation quickly changed to a negative then to oscillation and then positive and back to oscillation again.(note:If you place a glass of water under a cardboard pyramid, its water is energised,with what we now feel to be something asociated with cosmic rays,since this was once tried in Egypt with strange results on cosmic ray detectors,-Editor). I am still charging water and using it on my geranium cutting-successfully, it is still alive after 8 weeks.All the cuttings I took before I had the pyramid all died in about three weeks and the weather was much better then.Of course the plant could be reacting to the extra 'fuss' and attention involved. One would need controls,a lot of time and a laboratory separate from living quarters to evaluate results.

There is an interesting article in the LEY HUNTER on pyramids suggesting the energy has an organic link which seems to agree with my experience.The changes in the dowsing reactions also seem to indicate some sort of cosmic link (sun,moon,planets, or rays) which needs further investigation. I think the fact that the opening in most pyramids always aligned with the north star may be significant.

Yours sincerely, Frank Dineen, Editor, Dowser, 4 Brentwood Road, Ingrave, Essex, CM13 3QH, England.

*FOOTNOTE: There are now many books written on pyramid energy, which is supposed to dehydrate food, keep milk from going bad, and lots of other things.The great Pyramid has an opening in one side. It is always facing to the pole star.WHY? Also the word itself:PYR=fire,AMID=in the centre!!!!!!!

Editor.

Beryl Wallace writes on science fiction robots, but they may have a serious scientific UFOlogical reason:

You know the Star Trek series that used to be on? Well I bought a fantastic record called 'Inside Star Trek' featuring Gene Roddenbury creator of the series and William Shatner, etc. He also talks about his film 'The Questor Tapes' which NBC refused to turn into a series, they thought it too advanced for us idiots in the audience, it basically concerns a robot seeking his creator and Gene managed to turn it into a sensitive story. This was done in spite of NBC officials saying 'since when has a character in an adventure series been interested in the reasons for his existence! The robot theme gives interesting speculation as to where life leaves off and mechanicalness takes over, how for instance would you define a biological robot, one made of flesh and blood which could happen when you understand that scientists are tinkering with genetic engineering. Would such a robot race remain mans' servants for long or would they begin to think we are also people? I think the protesters who argue against genetic engineering are right as it would be totally unfair to create a slave race like that and as well as being against the code of all intelligent beings everywhere, or at least I hope so. I have reason to believe that some, if not all UFO entities could be products of this kind.

I was pleased to learn that Rita appears to have telepathic abilities in a recent issue of CNK. I hope your printing problems are now solved and keep on experimenting, you may discover other talents.

VOICES FROM THE DEAD?* **

Mike Milton, Metaphysician, has been studying reports of the voices from 'the dead'. These have become known as the Raudive voices. There have been many recordings made of this phenomena. In fact I remember reading about it long before Raudive's experiments in a small UFO magazine. However, Mr. Milton, following the pattern with a crystal diode circuit, coupled into a cassette tape recorder obtained the following voices: (In English, not Polyglot, which is a mixture of all languages) "WHY DIDN'T YOU CALL EARLIER, I'M GOING OUT NOW SAY GOODNIGHT". This was a woman's voice in high-pitched tones. And earlier: (amid much jumble), "Monsieur Milton" and other voices too later. As we were obtaining these from a hastily made crystal diode radio, we thought it must be an English language programme-probably a BBC radio play. So I wrote to the 'helpful' BBC, who as usual had this to say:-
29th March 1977:

Dear Mr. Harris, Thank you for your letter of 24th March. I am afraid that we are unable to help with your enquiry. A great deal of research would have to be done in order to ascertain whether the words to which you refer were in fact said over the air in a BBC programme on 23rd March and, unfortunately, we have not the necessary staff to cope with this extra work. As you are no doubt aware, our main function is the making of programmes and we regret that we cannot undertake any work unconnected with this. I am very sorry I must send you a disappointing reply. Yours sincerely, Margaret Gore (Miss) Programme Correspondence section. *CNK Comment. I bet if it was from Lord Haw Haw there would be a search!!

EDITED LETTERS due to their length:

8th April 1977 From SKYWATCH MAGAZINE. Editor D. Rees.

"How do you do it, the CNK you sent was great, it was very interesting, keep up the good work. Is Skywatch International? We have 15 international contacts, how many has CNK? If you have any addresses of persons who you think would be interested in SKYWATCH, I would like to contact them. If you have any countries in which CNK is not sent tell me and perhaps I can supply you with addresses. We must always remember to help each other, it isn't a contest to produce the best magazine. The advantages of helping each other are. 1. If money problems, we can publish for each other. 2. Instead of having one good magazine and 5 bad ones, the more help the more balanced in quality and content. 3. The more help, the more readers, thus preventing a magazine being wasted on a minority readership. Sorry to ramble on but I feel the points I make are of some sense. What do you think? If you contact David Prockter (Editor UFO NEWS) tell him to write as I have not heard from him for over a year. I will send him SKYWATCH if he would like to contribute. It is a pity UFO NEWS is not printed, I miss it myself. I read somewhere that Roger Stanway was no longer BUFORA chairman, is this true? Are you in contact with BUFORA Journal? It would be great if in the future we can all get together, editors of mags' etc., and publish a bumper UFO Magazine, on a one off basis or perhaps it may have been tried. Don't forget any contribution by yourself is always welcome. I will continue to print your advert in SW and I look forward to likewise in CNK. Well, that's all for the present. BEST WISHES. David Rees, Editor.

*CNK reply: IF ANY MEMBERS OF THE PUBLIC wish to be informed about UFOs elsewhere, write to; SKYWATCH MAGAZINE, David L. Rees 92, Hillcrest Road, Offerton, Stockport, SK2 5SE. (enclosing a stamped addressed envelope-for details). Mention CNK when you do so. To David. No I do not get the BUFORA Journal-who does?? Who ARE BUFORA anyway?! Do they represent UFOLOGY or chaos in this country? I'm still getting bad reports about them. So why bother with them at all! They are stuck in the mud, so let them stay there! If D. Prockter reads this, and I know HE WILL-please write to SKYWATCH. OK? The idea of us all working together is great. Trouble is there are too many egotists around who are doing ufology for the sake of themselves alone. So until they bow to public pressure, or get out of this subject, I'm afraid this idea is for the future. I hope its not long. -Ed.

FROM LAURA MUNDO- A report on the UFO scene in the USA
April 4th 1977;-

By now you must have received our last Mundo Monitor for Jan/Feb 1977. It will be our last one except for special articles. We had to break up our workshop and sell our printing equipment when we moved..so have to pay a printer now to get out our work, which we can ill afford. Am enclosing a latest press release that we have sent to all the saucer mags' and although it does not apply to you directly in England, thought you might be interested. Yes, the Sunn Movie Co., wrote us, also..but they consider this development from an Earthly perspective. So don't be disappointed if you don't have much re-action.

Sincerely, Universally,

Laura Mundo & Carmella Falzone, Co Drs.

Laura Mundo founder of the Flying Saucer Information Center and Mundo Monitor newsletter(now suspended, except for occasional special articles)advised her readership to send postal cards to President Jimmie Carter at the White House and remind him of his campaign promise to release any UFO information the government might have been keeping back all these years (he has had a saucer sighting himself).

She and some of her readers sent postals and were answered by a Colonel L.E.Seminare, Junior, in the U.S. Air Force Office, thanking them, but informing them that the Air Force does not have any more UFO information to release than what it has already released.

Laura sent a mailgram to Rosalynn Carter, the President's wife, while Ms. Carter was recently in Detroit where Laura lives(hoping thus to cut thru White House Tape) and asked her to relay a message onto her husband. He would go further down in popularity as far as thousands of American saucer sighters were concerned, she told Ms.Carter if he continued to pass on saucer inquiries coming to him to the USAF - that the civilian UFO researcher does not have faith in the investigations and conclusions of the USAF regarding UFOs in the past. We would like to give the President the benefit of the doubt since he is new to both fields (the Presidency and the saucer field)..but someone had to tell him. She only hopes you will all stand behind her, if needs be, AND INFORM HIM, ALSO. The reponsibility of informing the public of UFOs is his because; No.1-HE IS THE PRESIDENT.

No.2.-He has seen a UFO. The presidents in the past have not seen UFOs. If they did they did not speak out about it has he has done.

END OF PRESS RELEASE.LAURA MUNDO.April 4, 1977.

From Bob Blonville(editor of UFO REVIEW)

Many thanks for the copy of the new issue of Cosmology Newslink (14).This issue was GOOD pal. keep it up. I found your booklet A WORLD WITHOUT MONEY the other day with some other odd bits I had around, you know Ted, a lot of what you said could very well come about, let us take all the main political parties, Tery;Lib,Labour,and indeed all but one of the smaller parties are in full support of money,or Capitalism,even Russia and China, use money, so are in fact State -Capitalism, only one party in U.K. are and always have been from 1940 anti-money SPGB.(leaflet enclosed)read it mate see if we can not find a common bond and strat a newsletter to set up groups;people are fed up with the old party set-up, anyway think about it.

May 13th 1977:

Many thanks for your magazine (issue 15),received this day mate, may I say -----THE BEST YET! The layout,print were first class, I can see you have gotten the new typewriter, very good too. You never did reply to my last letter regarding your booklet WORLD WITHOUT MONEY. If only we could work something out, for this is 100% pure old socialism, think about this Ted. The mugs that vote X are all keeping up a lunatic system,until people wake up to the money con system, humanity will still be the slave to the wage v profit, and all the social evils that go with it,we still have the poor, the hungry, people without a home, child cruelty,sickness,all in some way, by-products of the money evil. And now in 1977 we have yet one more...Jubilee Year. The only flag I'm going to put out is "GOD SAVE THE PEOPLE".

Bob Blonville,3,Longley Court,LansdowneGreen Est.SW8 2PA.

? OUR REPLY:I can see your anger Bob at the money system. It must be shared by millions. We can STILL have a Jubilee and an unpaid Royal family in a World Without Money system. In fact my idea was, everyone still works, but, in a job they like, and know they can do-and supply goods free, because the labour is free. My booklets 1,500 of them have all been given away-FREE. I'm into a reprint soon. Anyone disagreeing can write to Bob at his address,about anything they like. Bob produces a UFO newsletter, believe it or not.

Editor's public notice: This magazine is non-political, and does not share the views held by most. The editor however is a political animal, but as UFOs etc., and politics don't really go together, unless they become a political issue, we stay neutral in THIS book. We do however agree that the Money system should be abolished. (Send for a free leaflet enclosing an SAE for return, as soon as we print some more).

From FORESIGHT magazine:

Thank you for your latest edition of CNK which we both enjoyed reading especially the piece on the hollow earth. We saw a T.V. programme last night which dealt with UFOs and it mentioned this theory also. We are pleased with the advertisement that you have displayed for us and we hope you will like the one we have done, which will be included in FORESIGHT 43, due out in July 1977. Keep up the good work and don't hesitate to contact us in the future.

Faternally, John W.B. Barklam & Judy Barklam (Mrs).

*CNK REPLY: The programme on UFOs was called OUT OF THIS WORLD, in which astronomer Patrick Moore wrote an introduction in the RADIO TIMES, more to ridicule it than anything else (whether he wanted to ridicule the whole programme or himself or ufologists, remains to be seen). Lord Olancarty (Brinsley Le Poer Trench) was also featured in this programme, which CNK has the transcript of, showing his hollow earth book SECRET OF THE AGES, UFOs from inside the earth. Lord Olancarty seemed not at ease during the interval, and the reason I suspect is that the hollow earth theory, is a temperamental subject, as you will see from our next letter, from TV Science editor PETER FAIRLEY.

* * * * *

From Peter Fairley. London ITN Science editor. 18th May 1977

Dear Mr. Harris. The picture in your magazine, on page 11, is made up by a computer from photographs received over a period of 24 hours from a US satellite named Essa. Because the weather over the North Pole is of less interest than elsewhere in the world, (fewer people live there), the satellite's cameras are switched off as it passes over the North Pole in order to allow its solar cells the chance to recharge its batteries. As a result, when the computer assembles information from the satellite it receives no data for the section over the North Pole - and prints, therefore, a blank. The world has moved round one complete revolution under the satellite, which is in Polar orbit, and the weather thus appears in a round shape with a round black patch where the switch off occurred.

Yours sincerely, PETER FAIRLEY Science Editor.
*CNK contested this reply by asking why did the satellite not switch off at other areas like the South Pole, or anywhere else on earth. We asked many questions of Mr. Fairley which was designed to ask him if he PRIVATELY believed in the hollow earth theory, and that we would not divulge that 'secret' least it hampered his work as a TV science editor, whose training, should have given him an OPEN MIND. We even mentioned various BOOKS on the subject. Surely a reputable science editor should READ such books, OPEN up his mind, and search for the clues contained in such work before uttering the following:-

24th June 1977 Peter Fairley's reply.

Dear Mr. Harris, I had not realised when I replied to your earlier letter that I was entering into a lengthy correspondence with you - this must be the end of it.

If you care to examine the many photographs which lie in the records of the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Agency in Washington you will find many pictures similar to the one which we have been discussing. On some of these, the satellite's cameras have been switched off at different places around the globe each day - places where land lies below, as well as areas such as the North Pole where there is no habitation and no vegetation. In these other pictures you will see black holes appearing on many of the pictures and not only holes, but sometimes jagged jigsaw shapes, bearing out my point that when the computer is making up a composite picture from all the photographs taken in one day it prints a black patch where no information is given to it. Thus you can find plenty of pictures of the Earth with jagged black holes in all sorts of places where we know perfectly well land lies.

You are, of course, welcome to your belief that the earth may be hollow and inhabited inside. But all the laws of physics and all scientific knowledge suggests otherwise. We know that the Earth is, in a sense, hollow - in the sense in that anything which contains molten matter or liquid is "hollow". The temperature measurements taken at different levels down below the surface of the earth indicate that the interior is far too hot for anything to survive and most matter would melt instantly if placed more than a few miles down under the surface of the Earth. However, keep on believing if you like - but I suspect that very few people will join you.

You are welcome to publish our correspondence in your journal if you wish.

With all good wishes, yours sincerely, Jean Plashett, pp.

Peter Fairley.

*CNKs reply. THERE WAS ONE TIME when I was in the position of Peter Fairley and all the others now so skoptical. My first reaction was, what madness is this! But HAVING AN OPEN MIND and not bogged down by the establishments teaching, that what they teach MUST be it, because 'big daddy' said it was so, I went ahead to find out. In doing so, I spent many many days pouring over these books, maps etc., to see if there was 'something in it'. What I discovered was unbelievable. Trouble is if the establishment teaches that Red, is Red-then you'd better believe them! You are not supposed to THINK for YOURSELF. Even if you did, you would probably get the push from your jobs to DARE suggest the earth is hollow. (Remember this situation existed in the time of the FLAT EARTH days)! Do you fellows out there reading this put yourselves on a par with this! ARE YOU A FLAT EARTHIST, just because someone tells you its scientifically PROVEN to be FLAT! No! Find out and give us the facts. Have the guts to read the evidence.

I HAVE written for photographs of 'holes in other places' and so far the Atmospheric Agency in Washington have not replied. Now, I accept that what Peter Fairley says as an accurate statement, regarding satellite switch-offs. If this IS so, then why should respected BOOK WRITERS like Brinsley Le PperTrench who now sits in the house of lords, and RAY PALMER of FLYING SAUCERS magazine, publish such pictures and say this is IT- the opening to a hollow earth. Surely with this revelation its going to make all these people look really daft! So why buy their books if they are printing utter rubbish!?

I don't think these people will like this article. If they don't like it, how do they explain Peter Fairley's letters? If the Hollow Earth Mystery is just to sell books, then it is about time someone's head was on the block. I shall myself look twice before buying any more such Hollow Earth material. One thing is for sure. Mr. Fairley did say "in a sense," May be". The clicher of this letter was the ending: "But I suspect that very few people will join you." Hands up! How many of our readers have joined me? THAT remark means YOU too!

Edward Harris. Editor.

THE HOLLOW EARTH CONTROVERS Y

(Continuation of letters and Forum regarding this subject)

*Please excuse typing misprints on the last page

Letter from Michael Hunt of Anglia Television, who has been invited, as a meteorologist to comment on the possibility of our world, and others being hollow:

"You mention the article in issue number 14 on the possibility of the earth being hollow, I would be less than honest if I did not say that I find the theory extremely unlikely but that of course is merely my personal opinion".

So wrote meteorologist Michael Hunt, of Anglia TV to your editor in issue 15. We asked him to explain therefore why is it that FRESH WATER is found in icebergs in the Poles. The Hollow Earth idea is that they are formed when FRESH water is pushed by currents over the rim of the opening at the poles, where they freeze in the arctic climate. Mr. Hunts answer to this is as follows: 13.5.77

"I regret to say that I consider the 'Hollow Earth' UTTERLY impossible for reasons far too numerous to mention.

Icebergs are composed of fresh water since they break off the polar glaciers which are formed from the snow which falls in the polar region."

Thank you Michael Hunt. However, there must be tons and tons of snow constantly falling up there to even build such glaciers. Am I right in this assumption? Do you actually KNOW the rate of snowfall in these regions? Since I cannot go to the North Pole, (I bet now you are all wishing I did), I cannot assess if your statement is correct. It would mean an AWFUL lot of snow, I guess. Whether the earth is hollow or maybe it isn't, there are still a hell of a lot of questions that must be answered before OPEN MINDED people refuse to believe otherwise. The clues to the earth being hollow are insurmountable, for example: RED POLLEN FOUND ON ICEBERGS, MAMMOTHS FOUND WITH FRESH VETETATION IN ITS MOUTH (sudden freezing-but how-no theory has held water-except the hollow earth one), MOSQUITIES AT THE POLE, TEMPERATURE RISES AT THE POLE, FRESH WATER CURRENTS, UNEXPLAINED NORTHERN LIGHTS, (which appear only in the poles and not anywhere else-suggesting a central sun-Mr. Fairley's 'LIQUID' core), And there we leave the argument which has been raging since it began, for the 'experts' who think they know it all. Maybe they don't after all. Only time will tell.

Dear Ed; (letter from Laura Mundo on the BERMUDA TRIANGLE)

From Roy Lake (Essex UFO Study Group) 15-5-77

Many thanks for your latest copy of your mag'. I shall be sending you a donation towards your work. My work with the Essex UFO Study Group has come to an end as far as chairman

I resigned from the group some time ago Ted, as I did not have much time on hand to remain as chairman, as you know I am on shift work and do not have much time to do group work. However I have not left the group altogether, I am still a member, and there is no ill feelings with me and the group. As for exchange of magazines you will have to get in touch with the group's secretary, that is Gloria Saville. I am still active regarding UFO work but on a private basis. I have enclosed a clipping from the Captain Wood sighting which you might not have seen. Will close now, hope to hear from you soon.

ROY LAKE, Essex UFO Study Group, 252 Parsloes Avenue, Dagenham, Essex.

*NOTE: For the first time since 1972 CNK is publishing the addresses of all correspondents in the space and unidentified flying object research, so that others may write to each other about the same subjects, and any members of the public who have seen a UFO and do not quite know who to tell about it. Now you have a selection of address to send your sightings to. Please do not send them to any BUFORA member, since, they will not be made public, unless you JOIN. In which case nobody will know you even saw such an object.-Editor. To any BUFORA member reading this, I suggest you get your group to give out press releases of important cases, of individuals, regardless of cost, since if I can do it on a shoe-string, then so can you.-Editor.

From UFO PULSE ANALYSER, Canada. PO BOX 15, Station A, Willowdale ONT. Canada.
Many thanks for your publication. No problem for an exchange. In fact, please feel free to re-print any useful information you find in my journal, and if you need additional UFO info from Canada I would be happy to forward it--all in the spirit of co-operation.

From what I've read so far your publication is fairly informative on UFOs, as much as can be expected of course, for a journal that does not deal explicitly with the subject. Incidentally, one of our new associates in Toronto hails from the olden days of BUFORA. His name is Eric R. Smith and will go under the pseudonym SHR Time in an article for the PULSE in June. By chance, did you know him? He was heavily involved in UFO research in England in the 60s and investigated the famous Silfa Moore case among other things. I hope you find my Journal interesting. First Observation. It is 8.10 pm, Mr. Leveziel who is on his way to a meeting suddenly sees an object, crescent-shaped, hovering above a crossroads named Piédechou-situated on the road "Quettehou-Valognes." "When he gets to the top of the hill "du Vast" (NDLR sur la D2) he sees the object going towards "Théville" and stopping in a place called La Fourquette de Théville. Length of time of this motion 20 seconds which corresponds to a speed of approximately 1700km/m. The nearer he gets to La Fourquette, the more interference he gets with his radio.

When he gets to La Fourquette, he is nearly under the object. It stands at about 500 meters high. It was very big and could be 150 meters long.

Previously he had only seen a crescent-shaped object, looking like a banana, but now from the extremities of shape, and symmetrically in proportion to it some long fine lines of the same colour could be observed. (lines that were not visible previously), The object does not light the ground.

Mr. Leveziel gets out of his car to alert some people in a café nearby, but suddenly the object goes to the north-west and disappears in 5 seconds without Il est 20 h 45. Habitant au lieu-dit "Le Gris Pré" dans le village La Rue de Sauxtourt (Commune de Théville). M. Alexandre Mahaut, nanti d'une lampe de poche, se prépare à changer de place les chèvres qu'il fait paître dans un champ isolé au milieu d'un site très bocager. Nous sommes toujours le 2 mars 1976. (seconde observation). Il fait nuit. Soudain la chèvre que M. Mahaut tient à la chaîne tire sur celle-ci, agite ses oreilles et semble avoir peur, ainsi d'ailleurs que les autres chèvres. M. Mahaut, surpris par cette réaction, éteint sa lampe, pensant à un rôdeur ou encore à un animal-il y a des chevreuils dans cette région préservée de route. A peine a-t-il éteint sa lampe qu'une forte détonation se fait entendre, sèche, brève et presque simultanément le témoin perçoit une odeur d'huile brûlée, odeur nauséabonde qui se dissipe doucement. Toujours à ce moment, il entend un léger sifflement, comme celui émis par une baudruche qui se dégonfle. Ce sifflement, audible juste après le claquement bref et pissant, demeurera constant et ne variera jamais en intensité pendant toute l'observation qui va durer de 20 h 30, c'est-à-dire TROIS QUARTS D'HEURE, et quand M. Mahaut s'en va, l'objet est toujours là. Combien de temps encore est-il resté? Nul ne le sait.

It is 8.45pm. Mr. Mahaut, who had a pocket torch with him on his way to move his goats, which were in a field some distance from his house. It was still the 2nd of March 1976. It was dark. Suddenly the goat that he was holding with a chain pulled on it, and shook its ears, and seemed afraid. Mr. Mahaut surprised, turned off his torch, thinking it might be a prowler or an animal. As soon as his torch went off, a big explosion was heard, very short, and almost at once. The witness can smell a smell of burnt oil, still at the same time, he hears a whistling sound. The sound was there all the time and did not alter in intensity during the time of the observation, which lasted from 8.45pm-9.30pm. Even after Mr. Mahaut went away, the object was still there. WHAT OBJECT? The first minute of surprise gone, the witness decides he will cross the wood in the QUEL OBJET? Le premier moment de surprise passé, le témoin va s'enquérir de ce qu'il vient d'entendre derrière lui. Il décide donc de traverser le bois dans la direction supposée, mais il fait seulement quelques mètres, car, sans lumière-pour éviter d'être repéré-, il s'empêtré dans les broussailles. Il redescend alors dans le chemin. L'endroit d'où vient le bruit est en effet en contre-haut et, pour éviter les broussailles. Il redescend alors dans le chemin, L'endroit d'où vient le bruit est en effet en contre-haut et, pour éviter les broussailles. il remonte le bois, mais en longeant une haie qui borde un champ. Soudain, il aperçoit une lumière au travers des arbres. Se dirigent vers elle en suivant la haie du champ, le témoin se trouve tout à coup en face d'un objet, objet qui se trouve de l'autre côté du champ à environ dix mètres au-dessus du plus grand hêtre qui fait environ quinze mètres de hauteur. Au même instant, M. Mahaut ressent des battements derrière la nuque à la hauteur du crâne, battements forts et douloureux. Il dit n'avoir jamais éprouvé cela auparavant. Quand je lui ai demandé si c'était un effet de l'émotion il m'a dit qu'il pensait que non car il n'avait pas peur du tout. Ayant parlé de cela à M. Duchemin ce dernier m'a dit que certaines personnes dont on prend un électro-encéphalogramme éprouvent ce genre de sensations. Ces battements durèrent environ un quart d'heure.

direction he heard the noise. After a while he saw a light through the trees. He went in that direction and finds himself facing an object which is situated on the other side of the field at 10 meters above a high tree (which is about 15 meters). -46ft approx. At the same time Mr. Mahaut felt some pain in his neck this pain lasted about 15 minutes. Firstly the witness is fascinated by the beauty of what he sees, and he kept saying many times that he had never seen anything so beautiful. The object was about 100 meters from him and about 25 meters high.

The object which looked like a refrigerator, and about 5 meters high, 5 meters large and 5 meters deep. Two black lines of 50 centimeters wide appeared vertically, and on each side of the front part, they stopped at about 30 centimeters from the rounded lower part of the facade. The frontage and the two sides are covered with little lights, yellow-like stars very shiny they looked shinier and nearer to one another in the top part part of the frontage. (see picture page 27). On the side and at 30 centimeters of the edge of the facade, he could see a few lines made of about 30 little holes, these holes had a diameter of only a few

Tout d'abord, le témoin est fasciné par la beauté du spectacle. Il répètera sans cesse qu'il n'avait jamais rien vu d'aussi beau. L'objet qu'il aperçoit est à cent mètres de lui et à vingt cinq mètres de hauteur. Cet objet ressemble à un réfrigérateur qui mesurerait apr. 5 mètres de haut sur 5 mètres de large et 5 mètres de profondeur. Deux bandes noires d'environ 50 centimètres de large apparaissent verticalement et de chaque côté de la façade, s'arrêtant, d'une part, à 30 cm. de l'arondi inférieur de cette façade, et, d'autre part, à l'arête formée par une espèce de corniche supérieure. Cette corniche à bords concaves et le dessous de l'objet étaient faits d'un métal poli, et brillant, si l'on peut dire, comme du papier d'aluminium. Car, d'après M. Mahaut, c'était incomparable. La finesse du poli était telle que son éclat faisait penser à celui de l'argenterie, mais en plus j. Les arêtes de l'objet étaient nettes. Sa face avant ou façade et ses deux côtés étaient constellés de petites lumières jaunes, jaunes comme des étoiles, très brillantes sans être éblouissantes. Elles semblaient plus vives, ou plus serrées, dans la partie supérieure de la façade. Le témoin n'a jamais vu ni l'arrière ni le dessus de l'objet. Sur chaque face latérale et à quelque 30 centimètres du bord de la façade on voyait une rangée formée centimeters, from each one a sort of electric-blue flame was coming out, inclined at 45° towards the ground. This flame had a length of 30 centimeters. The whistling seemed to be coming from there as well.

The object stayed practically at the same point and same altitude, but it seemed to make some oscillations from left to right and from front to back, with a see-saw motion. At 9.30 pm the witness went back home.

*CNK; THIS IS ONE of the most astounding cases I have seen. We have had practically every conceivable shape of the U.F. ☽ but this one defies the imagination. Of course it was NOT a refrigerator, but on first sight, the clues, ie, "smell of burnt oil etc.", "leads one to believe the object was man-made. But the human nose can be deceptive, regarding odours. Perfumes, for example are made from combining totally noxious smells, but when combined, produce the required odour. Therefore M. Mahaut's smell may be likened to this. The smell may have been extraterrestrial. It would be interesting to see if this object turns up in any other part of the world. It may have been an interplanetary probe—who knows?

par une trentaine de petits orifices. Commencant à 30 centimètres de la base de la corniche, cette rangée descendait jusqu'au niveau de l'extrémité inférieure de la bande noire située sur le côté adjacent de la façade.

De chacun d'eux sortait une espèce de flamme d'un bleu électrique inclinée à 45° vers le sol, dans un plan parallèle à celui de la façade. L'objet est resté pratiquement au même point et à la même altitude. Par contre, il n'a jamais cessé d'exécuter, pendant toute la durée de l'observation et à partir de sa position médiane représentée sur le dessin, une sorte de "mouvement d'horlogerie" presque horizontal, impliquant des déplacements latéraux rythmiques d'égale valeur et de faible amplitude. Ces mouvements se compliquaient de pivotements successifs de l'objet, par rapport à l'une puis à l'autre des arêtes verticales de sa face antérieure, et de basculements de sa base faisant penser à un mouvement en feuille morte, mais sans chute véritable. Vers 21 h 30, M. Mahaut est rentré chez lui, car il avait peur qu'on s'inquiète de son absence prolongée. A son retour, sa femme lui trouva le regard fixe et l'air bizarre.

A SKETCH OF THE UFO-as it appeared to two ob-

IT IS NOT OFTEN that the ministry of defence is called in to investigate UFO sightings, as far as I'm aware. IT IS NOT OFTEN that newspapers, local or national, fill up their front page space with the massive headlines you see on the left. THEREFORE this sighting must either be an important one for us, or the NEWSMAN HERALD hasn't any news worth printing on the front page. Whatever the reason, we here in CNK are very glad that the unidentified object phenomenon has made front page, AT LAST. Here it is:-FROM BOB JAMES of the N.H:-

THE MINISTRY OF DEFENCE HAS BEEN ASKED TO INVESTIGATE AN ASTONISHING UFO REPORT SUBMITTED BY CHELMSFORD POLICE DOG-HANDLER PETER FROST.

His sighting over Arkesden village near Saffron Walden at 2.50 a.m. on Sunday has shocked his colleagues at Essex Police Headquarter, who say a remarkably similar report was made a few hours later.

P.c Peter Frost, 35, of the Sandon police dog training school, was on observation patrol when he spotted a white cigar shaped object hovering in the sky. He said later: "It was just like a bright light, much bigger than an aircraft though at first I thought it was something landing at Stansted Airport. It was about 30° up and I waited for 15 minutes before suddenly realising that it hadn't moved. It did some funny manoeuvres before disappearing."

P.c Frost radioed his Chelmsford Headquarters and staff checked with Stansted Airport Control tower. They confirmed no aircraft were to land or take off.

"I've always had an open mind about flying saucers, but I'm not a great believer," said P.c Frost. "I expect my mates will really jibe me about this story."

Essex Police reported the sighting to the Ministry of Defence and local UFO experts.

Then on Sunday afternoon they were astounded when a Great Yeldham woman, about 20 miles away from Arkesden, contacted them with a similar report. Mrs. B. Waller of "Seznock" North Road, Great Yeldham, said a silvery object hovered motionless in the sky for 15 minutes before disappearing. She was completely unaware of P.c Frost's earlier sighting. Her UFO discovery was made an hour later, as the sun was coming up at 4 am on Sunday morning. "It was shining like a star," she said. A police spokesman said: "These two sightings have got us baffled. They really sound genuine."

Earlier in the mid-week a South-end policeman reported a U.F.O. "whizzing" over his patrol car causing the vehicle's electrical equipment to seize-up before it disappeared.

A SPOKESMAN for the Essex UFO Study Group said: "Pc Frost's description of a cigar UFO was quite usual for a report. He added there had been no other reports in the area. *CNK MAY follow this up.

The JOYCE BOWLES case

ADVERT: PAGES 3,5,6,7,8,9,10, 49, 59 (the photos and other matter) was produced on a Gestetner Duplicating machine using ELECTRONIC VINYL STENCILS Processed by DU-PLUS STENCILS at 42, Victoria St., Braintree, Essex, England. Tel: 0376-23095. Enquiries Welcome (artwork/stencil).

We are still dealing with the Joyce Bowles case in which she claims to have met the humanoid featured above. We tried to contact her last time via Southern TV, who said:

"Dear Mr. Harris, Thank you for your letter and the copies of CNK. I have forwarded two of these to Joyce Bowles with your comments, I am sorry to hear that she has not yet chosen to get in touch with you. But I'm sure you understand that this must be her decision.

Having met, in the course of my work, a number of people who claim to have had alien encounters, I'm amazed at their courage in speaking out at all. They lay themselves open to a great deal of malice and thoughtless comment, and it's hardly surprising that they treat requests for information, however well intended, with caution,

A note on your remarks by one of your correspondents in CNK 14: Joyce did not claim that the alien she first encountered had silver skin. She was quite clear about that. His suit was silver. His skin was merely pale. When we interviewed her on film we had an artist building up a sketch of this figure, based on her description. He subsequently used that sketch as the basis of a painting which we used in the programme. It's rather beaten-up now from hanging about in my office, but I enclose it with this letter in case it's any interest to you.

It may interest you to know that we had an enormous mail as a result of WATCH THIS SPACE. There is clearly a great deal of interest in the subject and at the moment I'm working with Jonathan Guilbert, the Researcher of the programme, on ideas for a possible series in this field. One line I would certainly want to follow up is Paul Devereux' discovery, in the course of filming WATCH THIS SPACE, of a number of hitherto unnoticed ley-lines connected with the UFO sites in question. He has since published his findings in the LEY HUNTER.

Best of luck with CNK, Yours sincerely, BOB FRANKLIN (director of Southern Report.

HOUSEWIFE JOYCE BOWLES, WHO CLAIMS A FLYING SAUCER COST HER A JOB, IS LIVING IN FEAR OF THE MEN FROM OUTER SPACE. FOR SHE SAYS THEY HAVE JUST PAID HER ANOTHER VISIT.

"I'm terrified, afraid even to go out any more," sobbed 42-year-old Mrs Bowles. "It's the third time something like this has happened to me.

"Why am I being troubled like this?"

Six weeks ago Mrs Bowles was made redundant as an attendant in the ladies' waiting room at Winchester Station, Hants.

She alleged it was because of publicity over her earlier UFO sightings - but British Rail denied this.

Her latest contact with visitors from space was on Thursday afternoon, she claimed.

She was out driving with a friend, Mr. Ted Pratt, when the car was suddenly "taken over".

"We ended up in a lane off the Petersfield road, near Winchester," she said.

S I L V E R Y

"Barely 70ft away was a silvery coloured machine hovering just above the ground and making a quiet humming noise,

"Two men got out and came towards us."

Mr. Pratt, a retired farm manager, who says he has seen UFOs previously with Mrs Bowles, described the men.

"They were rather different from the spacemen we had seen before," he said.

"These had sandy hair and were wearing dull metallic suits. They came towards us and said something that sounded like trying to help mankind . . . something about war.

"They held out their hands and took our hands. I was very frightened."

Mrs Bowles said : "Something like a silver disc was pressed in my right hand.

"Now a peculiar white mark has appeared on the palm of my right hand.

"The man said something to me, but it didn't make sense."

As Mrs Bowles broke into tears again, Mr. Pratt said: " They were making hand signals which I couldn't understand. They said they were frightened of man destroying himself.

"I think they are worried because by destroying ourselves, we would pollute the atmosphere.

"They kept referring to earthmen. Then they just said goodbye, or words to that effect, and returned to their spacecraft.

"It soared away into the sky, and disappeared out of sight leaving us standing there totally shaken.

"I suppose we were with these people for some 10 minutes."

G E N T L E

Mrs Bowles added:

"They are gentle people, tall and warm to touch. They said they would be back, but I don't want any more. I think I'm a marked person.

"It's no good talking to anyone about it, though. People don't believe me.

"But they will when there's a war. When nuclear bombs start falling.

"Then it'll be too late. I'm convinced this is what these people are trying to warn us about."

CNKs Comments: THIS CASE is puzzling. It seems a very genuine and accurate case. YET, the message is the same from the witness - ie that man is destroying himself. HAVE these beings got their 'eye' on this world's nuclear developments. CAN they see (SPY) on other countries where humans cannot at the moment?

Because if they can, then this is news to all governments that 'they' know what THEY are up to. BUT on the other hand, is this a private individuals views on the subject, and put over by inventing such a tale. I do so hope the former is the truth. I sure do hope Mrs Bowles is genuine, because if not, she has, through her belief given up all that's dear to her to put it over. I don't think anyone would go through all that just to make up a tale, or indeed just for the publicity. I really hope SOMEONE else in some other part of the planet, have the same contact. There is no substitute for the truth than a second opinion, a second contact elsewhere to back this one up. EDITOR

OWING TO SPACE BEING TAKEN UP THROUGH NEW SIGHTINGS. HERE'S A BRIEF SUMMARY OF OTHERS. (Extracts Only)

U F O S I G H T I N G S WORLD WIDE: (some belated from earlier).

FROM EDWARD O' HARE IN HARLOW, ESSEX, who sent this lot:

Daily Mirror 12/5/75

OBSERVERS of flying saucers are setting their sights on a bumper year. Forecasted is a flood of UFOs over Britain this autumn. The prediction was made at a conference in Hanley, Stoke-on-Trent, organised by the Unidentified Flying Object Research Assc. Mr. Tony Pace, the association's research director, explained, that over many years a pattern of sightings pointed to an upsurge in UFOs every 4 years. The last was 1971.

*CNK comment. WRONG AGAIN TONY, by 2 years at least. Better luck in PREDICTIONS next time!

FROM IRELAND'S OWN NEWSPAPER.

A T E L E V I S I O N M Y S T E R Y (although NOT a UFO report we reproduce it anyway): IN 1953 television viewers in many parts of Britain were surprised to see on their screens the identification sign of an American TV station. Relay by satellite was only a pipe dream at that time. Some viewers photographed it, for proof. Investigation by BBC engineers on contacting their American counterpartz, learned that the American station had been off the air since 1950. NO programmes had been sent out by this station over the previous THREE YEARS. This inexplicable occurrence raises the question what happens to the waves being continuously radiated by our radio and TV stations. Do they eventually peter out, or go on indefinitely? If they do go on indefinitely, where do they go? Where had the US transmission been for 3 years? And what caused it to reappear after all this time? CNK says. We wonder what the UFOs think of us, if they can receive some of our terrible television?

ALTERNATIVE 3. WHAT THE PAPERS SAID, or didn't say?

Daily Mirror. Date unknown. FROM HON AKASS

QUITE A LOT OF PEOPLE thought the world was coming to an end on Monday night, due to a hoax TV show; and that is all right. Decent people are prone to getting conned. Far more worrying than the gullibility is the bitter disappointment displayed by some of these people when they found out it WASN'T TRUE (CNK NOTE: It was about the mysterious disappearance of scientists, who ended up on Mars. The programme was presented in a dead-pan realistic vein.).

A substantial number of people would prefer an ultimate doomsday to the dreary drip-drip of our routine problems.

From Ed. O Hare (DAILY MIRROR clipping-March 7 1977)

Attractive Julie Smith and her boyfriend stopped kissing one evening when they realised they weren't alone. A UFO was playing gooseberry. The thing hovered around casting an eerie glowing eye on the young couple as they sat in Ian's car outside her home. IF the UFO came from outer space it was clearly intrigued by the way an Earth couple cuddled when they are engaged. For it turned up night after night to peep at them outside the house in Tower Hill, Chipperfield, near Hemel Hempstead, Herts. Ian, 22, said: "We've seen it about eight times now, and always when we've been sitting in the car. It keeps glowing, hovering and disappearing for about two hours. Any kissing has to stop because it's so weird we can't take our eyes off it" Ian who lives in Boxmoor, Hemel Hempstead, added: "By the time the Thing finally goes away it's always so late that Julie has to go in." Julie said:

"It's pretty late when we say goodnight and nobody else in the road has seen the thing. We've told our families and they all reckon we're mad."

GUARDIAN Feb 25 1977 via David Prockter

W A S T H I S A V I S I T O R F R O M S P A C E

THINGS that go boomp in the night have started the controversial claims of UFO sightings in Waltham Forest . . . again.

After a relatively quiet 1976, reports have started arriving at Guardian House of those strange objects in the sky. But just what are people seeing? In America folk have been warned not to mistake high flying geese for spaceships.

UFO spotter Dave Prockter of Mornington Road, Leytonstone has been interested in them since his school days-he's now 24 years old.

This week David explained why he is interested in UFOs, Said Dave: "Since I was a kid I had already been interested in the unknown and the things that were out of the ordinary." It was this early "urge" that has led David to be known world-wide as a renowned UFOlogist. "I get letters from all over the world, he says.

Chapel End schoolboy Darren Jones of Wadham Avenue, was quietly sitting in his bedroom doing his homework when a "bluey-green cigar-shaped light" shot across his view and disappeared behind some houses.

"A UFO," thought Stephen, I've seen a UFO."

As he rushed downstairs to tell his parents-who by co-incidence had just seen the picture jump on their TV- his friend Stephen Wilkes who lives down the road phoned to tell him. "I just saw a UFO, a blue-green cigar shape."

Said David Prockter: "The main problem is that many people are untrained observers and it's difficult to prove sightings."

David's personal record of sightings stands at about 10.

The one that gave him most pleasure was when he was with a group of 15 spotters in Warminster, Wiltshire. "It was in 1967," he said. "A red blob flew at about 15ft away from us and let off a great amount of heat."

Even policemen have been on to David telling him they have seen a UFO. It seems unlikely that every UFO spotter is having hallucinations.

But if the "little green men" are coming, what do they want? With all the problems of cuts in council spending and trouble with mosques, murders and robberies, there's not much they're likely to want.

But Dan Goring, Editor of the Journal for the Essex UFO Study group, believes that the little green men are watching and listening to everything we do and say.

O N L Y O N C E

Dan himself has only once had "the good fortune" to see something that could be described as a spaceship.

"It was on a November 5," explained Dan. "It was doing impossible manoeuvres-it was no firework." Dan was with three other people when the light flashed across his eyes, and they all felt that it was something unusual.

The British Research Association said this week that sighting by the two Walthamstow boys was most unique for more than a year.

*CINK COMMENT. Has David Prockter considered swamp gas for his Warminster sighting? This, in this case, could be just that!

UFOlogy (Non-Scientific) ^{In the} 1970s

BY DAVID PROCKTER - Co. Editor CNK

David Prockter now joins Cosmology Newslink as Co-Editor.
Seen here on a visit to CNK editor in 1974 or 1975.

IF WE ARE TO DISCUSS ANY SUBJECT AT ALL IN A RATIONAL AND INTELLIGENTLY CONDUCTED MATTER, FACTS ARE OBVIOUSLY ESSENTIAL.

From the rather skimpy recorded information gleaned from the UFO Phenomenon it would appear (to me at least), that every base we use for arguments is founded on heresay, myths, and hypothesis, rather than clean cold scientific fact.

So how do we find reliable evidence and/or information? We attempt to do this in several ways; none of them being any more conclusive than the other.

FIRSTLY, witnesses of UFO sightings, landings, contacts, etc., are interviewed, a word I prefer to use rather than investigated, at length concerning their experience. They are asked questions the like of which these days are rather more complex than they were several years ago; gone are the days, thankfully, of the ludicrous 14 question 'investigation', mundane questions concerning height, colour, size, etc. Most of the answers seemed to pose nothing but further mysteries. Then one day, we found that the average UFO sighting witness tended not to be a good observer. The position right now with sighting witnesses is a problem; they are interviewed and are asked questions which they cannot possibly answer. The human witness is very fallible; he cannot remember flight-patterns, he has not the ability (nor the inclination) to judge speed, distance, size, etc.

All that can be done is 'it was the size of the two pence piece at arms distance; it was below cloud level; it seemed to (?) be flying much faster than an everyday aircraft!'

There you have it - not a lot to go on, and of course it can all be pulled to pieces so very easily by the glib sceptic.

Because we cannot rely on the sincere yet erroneous testimony of sighting witnesses, we tend to try and provide our own, on that hulking dinosaur of unscientific Ufology, the SKYWATCH! Enthusiastic gatherings of interested parties who stand freezing to death in two pairs of trousers and army-surplus binoculars on desolate hillsides and other vantage points, hoping that some guardian fairy from their youth will grant them one more wish-a UFO sighting! It rarely happens. At a rough count I would state that I personally have witnessed possibly ten (no more) UFO sighting, ranging from the more typical 'light-in-the-sky' experience shared by so many others to encounter at rather close range. Only twice have I spotted anything on an organised skywatch; not the best of my sighting by any means, but if anything, ones that can be collaborated with a random selection of witnesses. I cannot ignore the need for round-the-clock inspection of our skies...but that is hardly what a six-hour vigil will provide. Scanning of a rather scientific nature is required, but who knows what form it must be; UFOs have, are still are, I hazard to speculate picked up on the radar's of this country's tracking stations only infrequently. Radar is still the only 24 hours a day method of scanning the sky, and from the numerous reports received daily by UFO investigation groups spread over the country, it doesn't appear to be working properly. Something else is needed to back it up, but don't ask me what it is.

UFO GROUPS themselves - what good are they? Most have fairly unimpeachable motives: they investigate and evaluate sightings, reports and have all information available. From bitter experience, it doesn't seem to work. Internal squabbles and childish politics seem to loom larger on the horizon than any serious study.

The most active minds in ufology right now seem to be another rank example of the list of those hulking dinosaurs I mentioned earlier; the armchair ufologist. Foresaking all thought of becoming the 'nth person to bother Mrs. A. about her sighting he is content to read what there is on the case; forsaking all thought of internal bickering between the 'Charing Cross UFO Centre' and the 'Havering & District Aerial Phenomena Committee' he gets on with his research; foresaking all thought of contracting pneumonia or worse in an effort to see a light in the sky on a windswept hillside he favours disseminating all his information via his own intellectual capabilities. Once, I thought armchair 'buffs' had precious little to do with UFO research proper, but now I'm not so sure. CONCLUSIONS(?) I'm not certain there are any, except that we must constantly strive to remember the limitations thrust upon us.

The level of active research by the establishment and it's/their scientific community is undetermined - there are those among us who believe they are just not interested and also those who believe that they have a great interest. But whatever the amount of research they conduct their results are inarguably for their eyes only, and, from facts emanating from the state of the UFO research conducted by 'this group 'n' that group in civilian walks of life, ours isn't anything to be proud of. While we study the corpse and pay little heed to the murder and the murder weapon we won't get very far!!!

DAVID PROCKTER Co. Editor CNK

EDITOR'S COMMENTS ON UFOLOGY:

I agree with nearly all of the above article by Mr. Prockter, that ufology, or perhaps the people in it, at times, shouldn't be in it. Yet if we do leave it to the experts-we don't hear the results. THERE IS INTERNAL squabbles in groups and at times very little research. The most credible groups seem to be, despite their shortcomings, the Essex UFO Study Group, do do manage some serious study, then NUFON in the north, and whether we like it or not, BUFORA, (even if most people don't get to hear what they are up to next). I have only seen one UFO myself, so they do exist and one day we will know for sure-trouble is that day is as far off as ever for most of us.

THE ASTONISHING

NEW QUESTIONS AS SCIENTISTS

FIND NEW CLUES THAT COULD REWRITE

THE BOOK OF GENESIS

THE YEAR 1977 may be when the astronomers seriously get down to rewriting Genesis.

A British professor believes that a few months ago we spotted a new mini-world, not unlike the Earth, being born in our immediate neighbourhood. In a startling prediction, a Russian group has asserted that they have evidence that a second sun could one day light up close to us. And in the past few days, astronomers struggling to see inside a glowing cloud of gas in the Milky Way, believe they have glimpsed the early stages of the birth of a new sun and its family of planets—a replica of our own local corner of space. Just how little solid worlds like earth, and the giant incandescent star it accompanies, come to be sieved out of the clouds of inchoate dust and gas that pervade our Universe is not an easy conundrum. It happened—and our very existence depends on that. BUT HOW? AND HOW OFTEN HAS IT HAPPENED ELSEWHERE? AND IS THE PROCESS OF CREATION—SO FAR FROM BEING OVER. BILLIONS OF YEARS AGO—STILL GOING ON? It would seem so.

"It IS exciting", admits Dr Derek McNally, Belfast-born director of the University of London's Observatory. "It means that our Solar System is not something static and finished. It is still being formed, still evolving.

F R A G M E N T S

His ideas have received a tremendous fillip a few months ago when astronomers discovered a series of five rings, apparently bands composed of millions of rocky fragments, orbiting the remote planet Uranus, which is four times the size of Earth and 1,800 million miles away.

For most astronomers, these came as a total surprise. But McNally is convinced they are what might be called 'birth-rings'—the embryo of a new world still being formed, in the Solar System some 4,500 million years after the whole process started.

Indeed, he had predicted them. His belief grew out of several years' abstruse research, covering endless blackboards and notebooks with 'horribly unco-operative equations' to try to understand how and why stars should condense out of gas so thin it could hardly be distinguished from nothingness.

But a clear picture emerged at last, of a central ball of gas and dust swelling and growing ever hotter, until it lit up into a star with the start of H-Bomb reactions at its core. And round it, so the calculations said, should be rings of a quite different composition, the heavy complex substances of which planets like the Earth are formed. And the rings in turn would condense and coalesce into chunky worlds-like ours.

THIS WORK CONVINCED MCNALLY THAT PREVIOUS THEORIES OF THE BIRTH OF THE SOLAR SYSTEM HAD GOT IT WRONG.

They had assumed all the nine planets formed in the same way, either condensing near the Sun or being sucked out by the gravity of a passing star in a cosmic near collision.

But according to the new picture, it all began, 4,000 million years or more ago with not one-but up to five - aspiring 'candidate' suns trying to get themselves together in our neighbourhood.

REACTION

'They were all competing for the gas and dust-star material -there was lying around. But one of them, our Sun, managed to get started ahead of the rest, and the more ahead it got, the less material there was left for the others.

'In the end only our Sun grew big enough to begin a thermonuclear reaction and light up as a star. The larger bodies that we call planets-Jupiter, Saturn,Uranus and Neptune,are in reality "failed"stars'

The cold debris left behind from the sun formed the smaller planets - Mercury, Venus, Mars, Earth. We have sent spaceprobes to all of them now, and we know they are hard rocky worlds like the Earth. The failed suns farther away were also left with families of stillborn planets, the giant Jupiter has no less than 13 ice-locked 'Moons' revolving around it. One of them also has spectacular rings-the planet Saturn known for 300 years. So long as Saturn alone was known to have this adornment, astronomers explained it, rather vaguely, as the debris of a catastrophic collision or a tiny world that came too close and was broken up by gravity.

'But now we know that there are TWO ringed planets, and I'm betting that we shall find at least one more,the catastrophe theory won't work,' declares McNally.

F U R N A C E

According to the Russians, however, it may be premature to write off one of the Earth's giant companions as a 'failed' sun. It may just be taking a long time to mature.

The black and orange stipes of Jupiter's cloudy atmosphere-through which no one has ever seen-hide, according to the Russians,a warming furnace in which thermonuclear reactions have already started. If Jupiter lit up as a second Sun, the effect on Earths climate and atmosphere could be dramatic and unpredictable. Man's very survival could be in doubt-unless we have by then developed some very far out technology for adjusting our planet's conditions.

* CNK's comments on the above.

Some astronomers are in total disagreement with the whole idea put forward by the professor. One such astronomer is Britain's Patrick Moore to whom gave me this reply about it:

"The theory of Jupiter as an embryo sun has been considered before, but rejected as unsound."-Patrick Moore, astronomer. David Prockter CNKs co-Editor said also that if Jupiter DID light up, what difference in temperature would THAT make, it would be like adding a cupful of water into the sea to make it bigger. So whether the professor is right with his calculations or the astronomers with theirs, there's two parties now saying "RUBBISH!" to each other, over this theory. I wonder who will win? -Editor.

at his home in Winchmore Hill, London. We are not sure where Ken is today. The last plotted position was he had moved to Warminster to be near the UFO scene. The Warminster report appeared in Interplanetary News issue no; 17 June 1967. It all happened so fast. UFOs had appeared there, it was in the newspapers as National News. It was organised by the great man himself, Keith Palmer, of the group called CONTACT (then the International Sky Scouts), John Cowley, who took the Warminster picture above, was and I believe is still an active ufologist. Most of the 'old' ufologists reading these pages will get memories of the past, but for the newcomers, searching and trying to contact the UFO is still as exciting as it is FRUSTRATING as ever. Many UFO journals sprang up due to UFO sightings of 1967. Many were young people, who after they married ceased publication. But for the rest of us, it is a life-long interest, as we struggle on, still trying to probe the unknown for the answers that don't seem to be forthcoming.

As editor of CNK, I have learnt a lot about UFOs, and then again find after a while, I have learned absolutely nothing.

EDITOR

It is the sad duty of CNK to report the death of Richard Shaver, of Rock Book Fame and author of the Shaver Mystery. Richard was in touch with us several years ago about his rock 'books'. We did not believe him of course, at the time, but evidence is slowly coming about, that some drawings made on rocks by 'someone' not of this earth and left on cave walls etc has been discovered. (Eric von Däniken's works etc). Richard Shaver claimed to have small rocks with tiny pictures found inside them, showing alien life and the things, inventions they had. CNK always disputed this, since Mr. Shaver seemed to have the monopoly on this only. His interesting work on 'life below' the surface of the world, makes the hollow earth story maybe even more credible. Whether this was the evidence we were looking for we now shall never know. Goodbye Richard, May you never be forgotten.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

By David Rees, SKYWATCH

DAVID REES -M.A.P.I.T.

IN THE WORLD OF UFOLOGY, we had in recent years a long awaited build up of UFO Groups co-operating and exchanging information for the benefit of UFOlogy.

In the United States they have amongst others Allen Hynek's "Center for UFO Studies", whilst here in Britain we have the "Northern UFO Network", "Southern UFO Network", plus other parts of the country forming similar liason networks.

The benefits of co-operation between UFO groups are obvious, the pooling together of UFO sighting information, new ideas to up-date investigation techniques, the setting up of regional Detector systems, the bringing together of dedicated researchers who perhaps had been working with a limited amount of data. The amount of projects that could be undertaken are unlimited, it is no good having 5 local groups working separately, oblivious of each others existence. It is essential that future research is carried out by working together and any new groups to be helped as much as possible.

GENERAL PUBLIC

The question of relations with the general public via the media is very important. What I am about to suggest is only an idea, which perhaps warrants discussion. It may have been attempted in the past, or is being at this moment in time. The idea is NOT an attack on the communications'Network's in operation today in this country.

If you have a network of groups working together, the group always retain their own individuality, which is a most important requirement. It safeguards them from being consumed by the system. As a joint effort at progressing the subject the Network gains respect and the public read all items related to the Network with interest. Now, as we all know, it is not a good policy to fabricate information to the media in order to make it different or sensational, the same thing applies for ego trippers. In recent years there has been and unfortunately still is a lot of embarrassing rubbish being printed eg: "Flying Saucers 5,000 miles long".....Well, in their defence the group might say "We gave them good reliable information" (what do you class as good reliable information?) and the paper has misused it.". Thus doing great harm to Ufology in the process.

What I would dread to see is a silly article about a stating that it is an associate group of a particular Network. If this happened it could to someone not familiar with the subject, class the other associate network groups as the same. My suggestion is that a special public relations committee, or similar be formed by the groups with perhaps individual members on the committee. So that it could be agreed that as they are working together, they must make sure that they don't release for the media publication to the committee, who would then vet the contents for false or misleading claims that would bring discredit to the network and UFOlogy in general. If the press refused to print the items because they were not meaty enough, then these newspapers could be noted and avoided, the days of supplying silly season stories should be stopped!

People might say "we need all the outlets we can get."

Well, surely not outlets which would harm all the good work now being done! Another comment might be "it's Dictatorship, we can't say what we want to say." My answer to that statement is, in joining a network it means you wish to be a serious UFO research group, working as one, and publishing the facts as uncovered by investigations into various aspects of the subject. One point should be made clear, a UFO group does not become a member of a network, it is only a liaison group (Associate).

A statment perfectly harmless to one group, may be the total opposite to the others. If this idea was ever set up by a regional network perhaps in time a national network could be considered. There would always be some groups wishing to have no connection with the committee and a lot of discussion on this subject would have to be made before any attempt to put it into practice. It would safeguard that only the credible information would reach the press. Then perhaps serious UFOlogists could sleep easier at night, not worrying about the contents of the next UFO article to appear in the press.

WE ARE BEING WATCHED

BY THE EDITOR

IT IS NOT REALLY THE POLICY OF THIS MAGAZINE to make speculative guesses, but there comes a time when that's all we can do. This year 1977, we have come so very close to getting to grips with the unidentified flying object. THE OLD OLD QUESTIONS of WHERE do they come from. WHY are they here etc., has not yet been answered since 1947 or so. ONE THING IS FOR SURE. After studying the UFO buisness since 1965, I have come to the conclusion, that we ARE indeed being watched. This has been the old display notice, but I'm sure it MUST BE TRUE.

TYPICAL UFO PHOTOGRAPH taken in England some years ago

The purpose of this article then is to look at some of the theories put forward as to why they are coming here:-

1. THAT CENTURIES AGO WE WERE PUT DOWN HERE BY SPACE BEINGS AND THAT THEY KEEP COMING TO SEE HOW WE ARE PROGRESSING?
(The Adan and Eve theory may either be all wrong or in fact correct if this is the case).
2. THAT THEY INTERBRED WITH OUR SPECIES, EONS AGO AND HAVE US UNDER SURVEILLANCE. (One reason why man doesn't fit in with nature-we are higher than the animals, but lower than the 'angles'. ie-THEM! (everything is possible when we JUST DON'T KNOW OUR ORIGINS)
3. THAT SINCE DISCOVERING HOW TO MAKE AND EXPLODE AN ATOM-BOMB, THEY ARE FEARFUL WE MAY DESTROY US AND THEM AS WELL.

4. THAT EARTH IS A NICE GREEN FERTILE PLANET (if we don't misuse it), AND THEY COME FOR SUPPLIES OF FOOD, AND WATER.
(If they get discovered doing so that's their hard luck)

WHERE DO THEY COME FROM? Here's ALL the hypothesis so far:

1. FROM OUTERSPACE. (FROM ANY PLANET IN ANY SOLAR SYSTEM AT ANY DISTANCE AWAY)
2. FROM ANOTHER DIMENTION (possible by our technology terms)
3. FROM THE CENTRE OF THE EARTH (This still debateable). If this is true, then is only possible because their civilisation has been around longer than ours with no catasphrophesies to wipe them out every few hundred years-like wars etc).
4. REFLECTIONS FROM THE PAST (This is to do with the speed of light, whereby, like the light from a star takes so long to reach us—we are seeing its past. A genuine UFO could have visited us and left its light behind, from the past.

5. A creature in a dimention putting 'its fingers' against the dimentional wall so what we are seeing is his finger-tips (like someone pressing on a sheet of glass).

TO add a note about other dimentions, they DO exists and there is some proof of that. ie, disappearing warships and private laboratory experiments where things vanish into thin air (Scotland, around 1962).

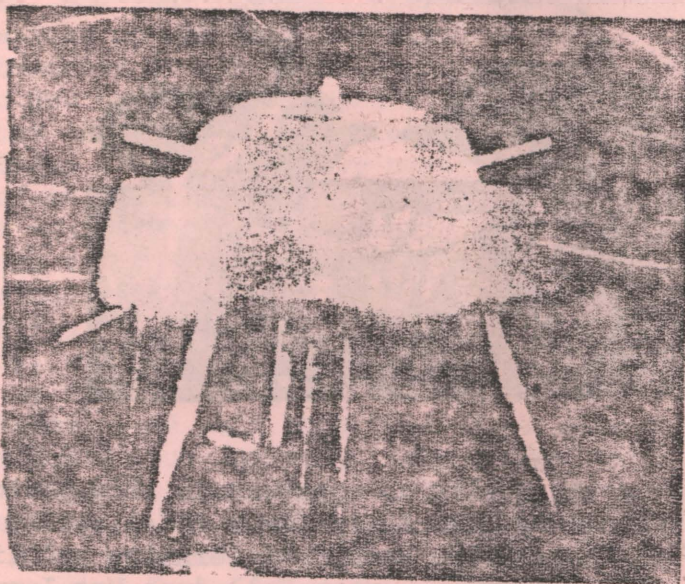

6. FROM INNER SPACE. Microscopic travel between the atomic particle which hold matter together.

WHAT IS MOST LIKELY OUT OF THESE THEORIES? My guess. Nos, 1, 3.

Another possibility is that the U.S. Airforce have designed circular winged aircraft which are being tested out. This is one possibility as you will see if you order the PROJECT BLUE BOOK advertised in this book elsewhere.

BUT UFOs have been seen since man could write on cave walls. This evidence is presumably the case in books by Von Däniken. They are in an assortment of shapes and sizes:

What this suggests is anybody's guess.....

This object was photographed, we believe by astronauts over the Hawaiian Islands in June 1965.

THE EFFECT OF UFOs
ON THE PUBLIC.

The effect of UFOs on the public is apparent in this photo, sent to us two years ago by Mrs. Betty Jones, W. Kalispell, Mont. USA, of her two model UFOs made from Ceramics and lit up inside. IT won third place in a show. Well done Mrs. Jones.

This cigar-shaped object, is the type many people are still seeing. This one was photographed by George Adamski around 1952. There are however cigar-shaped wingless aircraft. In Leonard Cramp's book, PIECE FOR A JIGSAW, such craft were under experimentation then. The idea was to get rid of wings. ARE THESE SOME of the cigar-shaped objects we are experiencing, or are most of them from outer space?

IN FACT man has been experimenting himself, with different shaped aircraft. The Advert for the book seen on page 10, shows a sketch from the US which shows such a craft now being designed. It was sent to the editor of this book. A photograph was available. Also, it was reported, be it true or otherwise, that Hitler was working on saucer type aircraft. IN THE SCIENCE museum, you can see a small model of a circular-winged aircraft built in the early days of aviation. This actually flew. CONCORDE is as near to a wide wing aircraft as we can get.

.....VISUAL EVIDENCE AND CONCRETE EVIDENCE OF THEIR EXISTENCE
It is all around us. BELOW: Mrs Betty Jone's displays a tree-trunk which has the scars of a UFO deep etched into its bark:

TELEVISION, UFO HUMANOIDS ETC. THE EVIDENCE.

As we saw on page 55 the deep graze left by the UFO in the tree. Also, but unluckily the UFO pilots have not YET been captured on FILM to be really identifiable (except the case of a policeman in the USA who got a silver-suited being on film). But that was a poor photo. The drawing opposite is from the Aerial Phenomena Research Organisation's booklet APRO BULLETIN (U.S.A), showing one of the humanoid encounters which happen all over the world, usually in out of the way places.

THE MEDIA. The TV people are at times, one of the worst offenders when it comes to seriousness. They treat it all as a big joke. Take for example ALTERNATIVE 3 which was an April 1st joke. Earlier we had Gerry Anderson's U.F.O. (photograph right) in which the UFO was a deadly enemy. We are sure glad that isn't screened anymore. BUT Gerry's SPACE 1999 is good entertainment. There is only one disturbing factor, although this could be probable in the distant future, WHY must he have all HIS aliens speaking perfect English?

IS THERE TODAY ANY HARD CORE EVIDENCE OF THEIR EXISTENCE? Yes, we in CNK feel there is. To quote: CAVE DRAWINGS, STRANGE ARTIFACTS found which seem to be unexplainable as native worship idols etc. BUT THE LATEST and greatest discoveries to date was made in the U.S.S.R. and in June this year in Australia: (see next page)

THE EVIDENCE FOR THE UFO

OLD TYPE

SOMETIME AGO, but early enough for the old folk to remember it, a large 'meteor' crashed somewhere in Russia. Today scientists seem to have found evidence that it exploded BEFORE it hit the ground and that there were traces of radioactivity still present. The latest official verdict was that it may have been a crashing spacecraft. THERE ARE OTHER LEGENDS TOO—from aboriginal tribes in Australia, of a similar happening. The following report sent via Ed. O'Hare in Harlow, concludes this investigation into the UFO—by myself, and brings CNK as close as it is ever going to get to finding the UFO itself, for now:—

JOE FOUND IN A MINE, but ARE THEY
PAYNE FROM OUTER SPACE? The Sunday Express, June 26 1977

SYDNEY: Three perfectly shaped discs found buried in a south Australian coal mine are baffling geologists and exciting flying saucer researchers.

The objects, each five feet in diameter and estimated to be millions of years old, were at first thought to be huge fossilised shells.

But now that theory has been discarded. Adelaide Marine expert Mr. Michael Lawrie said: "I have never seen anything like them. They are the identical colour of iron or steel which has been buried for a long, long, time."

FOLK LORE

What can they be? While the scientists continue their examination of the objects Mrs. Shirley Kemp, librarian for the Australian U.F.O. Research Society, said: "These discs could be the find of the century. Scientists believe the coal field where they found was burned out by a blazing meteor thousands of years ago.

"And this theory of destruction by fire ties in with the folk lore of the aborigines. They have a legend that many years ago a giant craft came from the heavens and landed in that area.

"Then men from the craft lit a huge fire to signal their arrival. Perhaps it was a probe to earth by a mother space ship".

MORE EVIDENCE FROM THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE

WITHOUT A TRACE by Charles Berlitz

In Without A Trace the author of the international bestseller, The Bermuda Triangle, investigates a whole series of new and baffling incidents which have taken place in that mysterious section of the Atlantic Ocean known as the Devil's Triangle—incidents brought to light by the world-wide reaction to his first book.

Without A Trace is filled with startling stories of strange occurrences within the Triangle: peculiarities of sea and weather; the appearance of "ghost ships" and a catalogue of vessels which have disappeared from 1800 through to 1976; clouds that seem to chase and capture ships and planes; time warps; and the possibility of a doorway in the area leading to another dimension, or even to outer space. Mr. Berlitz analyses reports of such phenomena as the malfunction of NOAA weather satellites only when they pass over the Triangle; the joint investigation of the Triangle for electro-magnetic anomalies by the navies of the United States and the Soviet Union; the United States Navy's top secret "Philadelphia Experiment," in which a ship and its crew is purported to have been rendered invisible; and many more tantalising mysteries.

The result is a book filled with an abundance of evidence and information never before available, and Mr. Berlitz uses it here to support some startling theories and explanations concerning events that continue to haunt the Bermuda Triangle.

UFO SIGHTED IN WITHAM, ESSEX (aprox June 1977)

CNK has received a report first hand of a UFO sighted in Witham. This was the scene of a UFO sighting also in Witham on Dec 13 1974. NIGHT SKYWATCHER JAMES FARROW, 29, of then, 25 Halford court, was out one night walking, he told ~~CNK~~ he often does this when he cannot sleep, when on this occasion he noticed 2 very bright stars. Then one of them started moving at a terrific rate across the sky. The whole motion lasted only $\frac{1}{2}$ a minute, which was long enough for Mr. Farrow to see that the object, which appeared BRIGHTER than a star, was cigar-shaped. Weather conditions were warm. James said that he had never seen a UFO before, and wasn't involved with them. After the sighting he told his wife Christine, 26, who was just too late to see the same object. This sighting is important enough for us to send the form ourselves to the MOD who are now investigating the Arkesden Village case, according to newspapers.

T H E H U M IT'S DRIVING SOME PEOPLE CRAZY!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Many people in England have been troubled by a weird humming sound which they say has ruined their health. Many people wrote into national newspapers about it. Some have even sold house and moved. The noise described as like the distant idling of a diesel engine. Some had walked the streets trying to find the source of the noise. BUT THE DEPT. OF THE ENVIRONMENT have REFUSED to launch a major investigation. One scientist also has been REFUSED a grant to investigate it. He said: "They don't seem to consider the subject important enough" -yet its driving people mad. He said "There must be an answer somewhere, only a proper scientific programme might find it."

Complaints came from, LONDON, BOURNEMOUTH, CARDIFF, BLACKPOOL, IPSWICH, and PAISLEY (nr. Glasgow). WHAT IS THE CAUSE of it?

Some blame the telephone system, others accuse aircraft radar. North sea gas and oil rigs are considered possible sources, and some think it comes from abroad. ONE THEORY PUT FORWARD HERE BY CNK STAFF, is that it may be a satellite in space, beam-ing down accidental or deliberate interference using ultra-sonics perhaps for communication, experiment etc., which the human ear under certain decibals finds it very distressing, leading to medical complications. One of our staff suggests (lightheartedly) that this is the method of warfare of the future. STRANGELY ENOUGH, next day in the Sunday Mirror, this suggestion was already considered (June 19th 1977) QUOTE:

"The most incredible theory is that the hum is transmitted by a spaceship circling the earth."

One thing is sure, its not connected with any sonic booms by aircraft. A dr. Leventhall of the acoustics group at Chelsea College University London says: "Definitely something odd is going on. We have picked up a low-frequency sound with a sensitive microphone. It was amplified so that we could reproduce it in the laboratory. It is not unlike the sensation you might experience from a ship's engines-though on a reduced scale." He said it could be due to fluctuations in the atmosphere such as air turbulence. If it is that there is nothing we can do. "

So far 200 names have been collected of sufferers, and three have been driven to suicide over it. Even a young girl has had the noise since she was 11. Dr. Leventhall believes people in other countries may also be hum victims-and there is support for his view from the Department of the environment. "We are aware of the problem and of research by Universities both here and in America. The Noise Advisory Council has also contacted us, but we do not feel that a research project would be justified".

VON BRAUN DIES AT 65.

Dr. Wernher von Braun, the scientist who sent man to the moon died on June 17th 1977 at the age of 65. After months in a Washington hospital, he died of cancer. A private funeral service was held before the announcement of his death. SINCE his surrender to the Americans in 1945 he has pioneered rocket development. For 20 years he directed space projects for the American army, and in 1970 he became a top official with the National Aeronautical and Space administration. In 1972, he left government service to become a corporate vice-president for engineering and development. Von Braun said of his V2: "We felt genuine regret that our missile, born of idealism... had joined in the business of killing. We had designed it to blaze the trail to other planets, not to destroy our own." Dr. Von Braun's work in the US focused on peaceful exploration of outer space. In 1958 his Redstone rocket boosted America's first satellite into orbit, and 11 years later his Saturn-5 sent Neil Armstrong to be the first man on the Moon.

* * * * *

*FOOTNOTE: VON BRAUN's last dream died with him unfulfilled. He wanted to ride into space himself aboard America's new winged space shuttle craft, the Enterprise, in which 4 astronauts are due to take the first ride today (June 18), mounted on top of a trial Jumbo-jet. The first SPACELAB is being built in Europe.

Although CNK has run to 64 pages, we still haven't enough room for the Canadian scene sent by Gene Duplantier, our satire-throwing fiend in Ontario. NEXT TIME. OK Gene? Gene is compiling a photographic book about the ufologist called UFOILK. soon.

CNK's answer to ALTERNATIVE 3.: In the next issue: WHAT WAS THE STRANGE OBJECT SEEN ON THE MOON BY ASTRONAUTS. In a Canadian magazine called UFO PULSE ANALYZER for MAY 1977 there's a picture (we have obtained the negatives) of an object on the near horizon with four legs, presumably looking at an astronaut drilling for samples. MAYBE ALTERNATIVE 3 was in some way the truth disguised as fiction. We have now obtained photographs from a London-based agency which could help clear up the mystery. BUT WILL IT? Join us next time for a good look at what IS on the moon, besides US equipment.
